

“URAMUS II” - URANUS IN ARIES

“This is my wish for you: Comfort on difficult days, smiles when sadness intrudes, rainbows to follow the clouds, laughter to kiss your lips, sunsets to warm your heart, hugs when spirits sag, beauty for your eyes to see, friendships to brighten your being, faith so that you can believe, confidence for when you doubt, courage to know yourself, patience to accept the truth, Love to complete your life.” ~ Unknown

Uranus entering the constellation of Aries in March 2011 heralds a time of great collective awakening and the action those awakened bestow upon the world.

It’s the birth of a new era for each and for all of us. Find out how this powerful planet moving into Aries will affect you personally by taking advantage of our special Spring 2011 “URAMUS” astrology reading. Visit www.7Temples.org or call 303-READINGS to schedule your “URAMUS” reading today!

In the meantime, keep your head clear and pointed in the right direction. There is no greater force than your intention. At this moment more than any – together we can utilize that Mars-Aries force to meet our challenges head-on with the powerful intention of mass energy. $E=Mc^2$ is taking on a brand new meaning!

Looking back on some of the historical events that took place the last time Uranus entered Aries which was in 1927 to 1935, there seem to be some significant connections between then and now. In a nutshell, the world was in economic collapse and preparing for a world war; and karma, in its capacity as the law of cause and effect on our planet earth, was working at a faster pace than perhaps at other times. Does this sound vaguely familiar in this new millennium?

So can we expect a repeat of yet another depression followed by yet another world war? Is this what is brewing behind the scenes as Uranus heads back into Aries once again in March 2011? If you’re keeping up with the present economic and social crisis’s that seem to be bouncing around the media battlefield these days ... it seems not only possible but also likely.

When will we as a species put a halt to all of this fussing and fighting? Utopia is forever on the horizon. However, reality consistently shows that we move in cycles. Uranus in Aries could bring in a cycle when those of us who have relentlessly struggled to resist entering into conflict finally become too uncomfortable to continue on “as is” and, as a result, jump in to resolve it – Creatively? Peacefully? I’m optimistic. Yes, it takes a village to raise a collective consciousness, and collecting a village to thrust into consciousness is Uranus’ specialty – ask any Aquarian. Add a dash of Jupiter as a forerunner, the Sun, Moon, Mercury, and Mars joining the party in March and April, and we have the potential to see some amazing Master Teachers appear during this time, as well as experience our own evolution.

Uranus is the only planet which rotates on its side and is considered in astrology to represent the energy of SUDDEN and almost always WEIRD CHANGE. Often this type of change is referred to as “a twist of fate”. Aries is the zodiac sign that represents pure ENERGETIC ACTION. It stands to reason then that there will be some major CHANGE of ACTION that can now reveal itself. What will it be? Earthquakes, volcanic eruptions, technology that exceeds our moral development, groups of people trying to control other groups of people, energy sources proving their fallibilities, earth’s magnetic field wimping out, and even a pole shift in our very lifetime? Anything is possible during this time of tumultuous changes!

Uranus in Aries ushers in an era of letting go of the old, reaching out for the new, and landing somewhere completely unexpected in between.

The biggest advantage astrology gives us down through history is the knowledge of time-tables. Uranus leaves Aries in May 2018 and begins its ascent into Taurus at that time. The direction that we focus our energy in during this URAMUS period (2011 – 2018) is going to determine the quality of substance that manifests in our world when it moves into Taurus. Will we repeat past cycles where we’ve relied on the production of war to recover economically on a global scale? Or will we find a more creative solution?

This is the perfect time for the greatest creative minds of this era to bring their ideas to the table.

We’re all listening ...

Remember to visit our website

www.7Temples.org

where we post new articles, videos, and music each month, and offer a variety of services:

Psychic, Tarot, Astrology, Numerology, and Rune Readings by phone, skype, IM, or email, Soul Readings, Angel Readings, Love Meter Compatibility Readings, and Baby Scopes.

All of our readers are prompt and professional.

Visit our Video page!

