

UNMASKING VENUS IN VIRGO

“This is the very perfection of man – to find out his own imperfections.”

~ St. Augustine

Peace and quiet will be the healers of your soul during this transit of Venus through the constellation of Virgo July 10, 2010 to August 6, 2010. At this time it's likely that you'll enjoy your privacy and alone time more than ever. You may appreciate order over and above chaos, maybe even crave it more right now so it may take more conscious effort on your part to be patient with those who may not have things as tidy and organized in their world.

Venus in Virgo is all about perfection and often the occasional hurt feelings that result from nit-picking in the name of it. Venus in Virgo asks: Do you think you know what you like and don't like? Are you sure about that? And to what lengths will you go to get it the way you want it to be? Are you finding answers or finding fault? What are you willing to sacrifice for peace, love and the pursuit of happiness?

This is a great time to review finances and tighten the budget but not so great if you and yours get into the blame game. It's nobody's fault. It just is what it is. It's also a great time to clean out those closets. Finding some of those items you once thought were gone forever can bring back fond memories and look at how spiffy your nice clean closet looks when you're done!

This is indeed the perfect time to practice patience, tolerance and unconditional love.

Whatever your definition of “perfection” is when Venus goes into Virgo, let it be “perfected” during this transit to reflect the perfection of each perfect imperfection.
